Comment: The tabulation tends to indicate that a total of 462 carloads or 10.3 trains with 45 cars to each train have been dispatched in February 1953. This traffic is considered normal. A compilation of all border-crossing reports revealed that 11 trains with 45 cars to each train were dispatched in February. As the reports fail to mention shipment-record numbers and as they deviate with regard to dispatching stations, an identification of the individual trains could not be made.
